

Non-Winter Promise Resources

Please be aware that Winter Promise Publishing sells materials made available to us by outside publishing companies, and therefore does not always have control over the publishing of books and resources by these companies. If a title in your purchase is unable to be purchased new (a recent out-of-print book via our vendors, or a discontinued book), we will notify you of the resource and solution options. Some solution options may be a used resource with a refund of the difference between the used and new copy, or a refund for the amount you paid for that resource. We will always do our best to provide Winter Promise families with options and the knowledge of where to find these items for their own purchase.
